Over the course of a single session or a series of workshops, The King's Singers will draw on their experience to offer:

- ✦ Expertise on vocal technique and the art of choral singing
- ✦ Breakout rooms for singing unmuted, and small group discussions
- ✦ Online resources before and after sessions
- ✦ Forums for asking all kinds of questions about ensemble singing
- ✦ Visits to choir rehearsals
- ✦ One-to-one sessions with choral directors

VIDEO COLLABORATIONS

An opportunity to collaborate digitally with The King's Singers by:

- ✦ Rehearsing and recording a virtual performance together
- ✦ Creating bespoke arrangements in collaboration together
- ✦ Sharing the finished video with your online communities
- ✦ Tips and advice for good practice when recording at home

PRESENTATIONS

The King's Singers enjoy presenting on various topics linked to the world of choral music, such as:

- ✦ Finding Harmony: music at times of strife around the world
- ✦ How We Make a Programme
- ✦ The Art of The King's Singers
- ✦ A Cappella Through the Ages
- ✦ An Audience with The King's Singers

THE KING'S SINGERS TEACH

For decades, The King's Singers have loved teaching choirs of all ages and ability levels, during their travels across the globe.

Since March 2020, The King's Singers have successfully taken these in-person teaching skills online, opening up even more opportunities for ensembles of all types, around the world, to work – both individually and collectively – with the six members of The King's Singers.

Particularly during times when many choirs can't meet in person, digital workshops (on Zoom and other platforms) have enabled singers, directors and choral practitioners to connect with The King's Singers in a way that was not possible previously.

This new online educational package is your chance to bring The King's Singers to you: to get to know them, and to harness their talent and years of choral experience in a way that works for your choir.

And all from the comfort of home.
